FUND SUMMARY: CATALYST/GROESBECK GROWTH OF INCOME FUND

Investment Objective: The Fund seeks to provide current income that increases over time, and as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

You may qualify for sales charge discounts on purchases of Class A shares if you and your family invest, or agree to invest in the future, at least $50,000 in the Fund. More information about these and other discounts is available from your financial professional and is included in the section of the Fund’s prospectus entitled How to Buy Shares on page 65 and Appendix A – Intermediary-Specific Sales Charge Reductions and Waivers and in the sections of the Fund’s Statement of Additional Information entitled Reduction of Up-Front Sales Charge on Class A Shares on page 61 and Waiver of Up-Front Sales Charge on Class A Shares on page 62.

² The Advisor has contractually agreed to waive fees and/or reimburse expenses of the Fund to the extent necessary to limit total annual fund operating expenses (excluding brokerage costs; underlying fund expenses; borrowing costs such as (a) interest and (b) dividends on securities sold short; taxes and, extraordinary expenses) at 1.35%, 2.10% and 1.10% for Class A shares, Class C shares and Class I shares, respectively, through October 31, 2018. This agreement may only be terminated by the Fund’s Board of Trustees on 60 days’ written notice to the Advisor and upon the termination of the Management Agreement between the Trust and the Advisor. Fee waivers and expense reimbursements are subject to possible recoupment by the Advisor from the Fund in future years on a rolling three-year basis (within the three years after the fees have been waived or reimbursed) if such recoupment can be achieved within the lesser of the expense limitation in place at the time of the waiver/reimbursement and the expense limitation in place at the time of recapture.

³ Restated to reflect the expense limitation agreement currently in effect.

Example: This Example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The Example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem all of your shares at the end of those periods. The Example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and that the Fund’s operating expenses remain the same. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

YEAR	Class A	Class C	Class I
1	$706	$214	$113
3	$1,157	$844	$541
5	$1,634	$1,499	$995
10	$2,946	$3,255	$2,256

Portfolio Turnover: The Fund pays transaction costs, such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or “turns over” its portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual fund operating expenses or in the Example, affect the Fund’s performance. The portfolio turnover rate of the Fund for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2017 was 48% of the average value of its portfolio.

Principal Investment Strategies:

The Growth of Income Fund invests primarily in dividend-paying common stock of medium and large capitalization companies. The Fund’s sub-advisor, Groesbeck Investment Management Corp. (“GIM” or the “Sub-Advisor”) defines large capitalization companies as those with a market capitalization of $5 billion or more. The Fund’s investments will generally be in common stocks that offer dividend yields above the market average and often show promise for future dividend increases.

The securities selected for the portfolio will generally have a higher level of earnings, revenue, and dividend growth rates than the market average. The Sub-Advisor also attempts to select securities of companies that have strong balance sheets with a high return on equity and a low dividend payout ratio (the amount of dividends paid as a percentage of profits). The Sub-Advisor believes that these are characteristics that generally lead to securities with more sustainable dividends. A company that pays out a smaller portion of its profits as dividends has a better ability to continue to pay or raise its dividends than a company that already pays out a higher percentage of its profits.

The Sub-Advisor, seeks to invest in attractively valued securities that, in its opinion, represent above-average long-term investment opportunities. Securities may be sold when the Sub-Advisor believes that they no longer represent relatively attractive investment opportunities. Characteristics that may lead to the sale of a security include slowing sales and earnings growth and slowing dividend growth or reduced dividends.

Principal Risks of Investing in the Fund

As with any mutual fund, there is no guarantee that the Fund will achieve its objective. Investment markets are unpredictable and there will be certain market conditions where the Fund will not meet its investment objective and will lose money. The Fund’s net asset value and returns will vary and you could lose money on your investment in the Fund and those losses could be significant.

The following summarizes the principal risks of investing in the Fund. These risks could adversely affect the net asset value, total return and the value of the Fund and your investment.

Management Risk. The portfolio manager's judgments about the attractiveness, value and potential appreciation of particular securities in which the Fund invests may prove to be incorrect and there is no guarantee that the portfolio manager's judgment will produce the desired results.

Market Risk. Overall stock market risks may also affect the value of the Fund. Factors such as domestic economic growth and market conditions, interest rate levels and political events affect the securities markets.

Medium (Mid) Capitalization Stock Risk. The earnings and prospects of mid-capitalization companies are more volatile than larger companies, they may experience higher failure rates than larger companies and normally have a lower trading volume than larger companies, which may tend to make their market price fall more disproportionately than larger companies in response to selling pressures.

Security Risk. The value of the Fund may decrease in response to the activities and financial prospects of an individual security in the Fund's portfolio. There can be no guarantee the securities held by the Fund will appreciate in value.

Performance:

The bar chart and accompanying table shown below provide an indication of the risks of investing in the Growth of Income Fund by showing the total return of its Class A shares for each full calendar year, and by showing how its average annual returns compare over time with those of a broad measure of market performance. Although Class C and Class I shares would have similar annual returns to Class A shares because the classes are invested in the same portfolio of securities, the returns for Class C and Class I shares would be different from Class A shares because Class C and Class I shares have different expenses than Class A shares. Sales charges are reflected in the information shown below in the table, but the information shown in the bar chart does not reflect sales charges, and, if it did, returns would be lower. How the Fund has performed in the past (before and after taxes) is not necessarily an indication of how it will perform in the future. Updated performance information is available at no cost by calling 1-866-447-4228.

The Fund's Class A shares year-to-date return for the period ended September 30, 2017 was 15.52%.

After-tax returns are calculated using the highest historical individual federal marginal income tax rate and do not reflect the impact of state and local taxes. Actual after-tax returns depend on a shareholder's tax situation and may differ from those shown.
